

Train the EDI Trainer

Need to deliver equality and diversity briefings and training?

With more Equality and Diversity (E&D) training being delivered internally, this Train the EDI Trainer session will help you develop and deliver engaging effective E&D sessions offering real value for money.

The one day course will cover:

- Where things are up to in 2017 - a brief refresher on the law.
- Training approaches, methods, techniques and tools with a focus on interaction and media.
- Using current E&D cases/ issues/ news items.
- Getting E&D on to everyone's agenda – techniques to engage staff and managers at all levels.
- Developing and using case studies.
- Using appropriate and inclusive language.

Offering much more than just another training day, this session provides practical training tips with an E&D focus.

Participants will get the chance to shape the session through pre-session communication with the facilitator and using their own examples and experiences on the day. The session also offers a great networking opportunity!

The session will be run by Sarah Clement, HDN Associate. Details of dates and venues of various sessions available below;
